

CLAIMS

1. A method for treating a mammal afflicted with a metastatic cancer to bone comprising administering to said mammal a therapeutically effective amount of M-CSF antagonist thereby reducing the severity of bone loss associated with the metastatic cancer.